

Creepy Crawlies

Slug

Beetle

Spider

Centipede

Earwig

Can you catch a creepy crawly? Good places to look are in dead trees or branches, underneath trees which have fallen over, in piles of leaves on the ground and in the soil (you might have to dig a little bit).

Put it in your bug box and see if you can answer the following questions:

Bug 1

How many legs does it have?

Is it dry or slimy?

Is it hard or soft?

Can you see its eyes? How many does it have?
Are the eyes on the front of the head or at the side?

What do you think it is?

Bug 2

How many legs does it have?

Is it dry or slimy?

Is it hard or soft?

Can you see its eyes? How many does it have?
Are the eyes on the front of the head or at the side?

What do you think it is?
